Private Counseling For Public Service

If you or a loved one are an active member or veteran of military service, free therapy may be available for you. Have you lost a loved one? Do you ever feel depressed or out of control? Do you have trouble at work, or with your children? Whatever the reason contact us for help.

FREE THERAPY MAY BE AVAILABLE

- There is never a wait list
- Number of therapy sessions determined by therapist and client
- Any service member, veteran, loved one, couple or family member who would like to work with a licensed therapist and does not require the therapist to appear in court, present a threat of violence, request care for chronic mental illness or have alcohol or drug problems is eligible
